COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE for SEND THE RIGHT MESSAGE

Introduction

We aim to maintain high standards in all that we do but recognise that we can sometimes get things wrong, despite our best intentions.

SEND THE RIGHT MESSAGE views a complaint as an opportunity, as well as a chance, to put things right for the person making the complaint, and to improve the service that SEND THE RIGHT MESSAGE offers.

We would not be able to do so or learn for the future if we did not receive feedback when things go wrong. Therefore, we value and take seriously any feedback we receive. Generally, the purpose of this Complaints Procedure is to resolve disputes informally without resorting to formal investigation or legal proceedings.

We will try to explore every reasonable option to resolve complaints by working with the person making the complaint to agree an outcome which is satisfactory to them and SEND THE RIGHT MESSAGE

Whether your complaint is justified or not, our reply to you will describe the action we have taken to investigate the complaint, conclusions we have reached because of the investigation, and any action we have taken or are taking as a result of your complaint.

We will ensure that all information received and produced in connection with a complaint is treated as confidential and handled sensitively, that only those who need to know have access to that information, and that relevant data protection requirements are all met.

All complaint information is passed promptly to our CEO Maggie Cleary and reports on them to our trustees within 28 days.
